Justification

Program Justification

In consultation with CFA advising, we have found that while many studio students would like a minor in art history and many art history students would like a minor in studio, yet this isn't currently feasible for two reasons: our current minor is simply a minor in art without the sub-discipline transcribed and the course structure is such that it is nearly impossible to achieve the minor without going well over credit hour limits. In order to serve students better and hopefully attract more people interested in art history or studio art to minor in those areas, we are making the filling changes: Instead of a single minor with three tracks, we are making changes to the Minor Art and adding two minors, Minor in Art History and Minor in Art Studio.
