Justification:

We are reducing our the total credits of all of our degree programs to 120, making it possible for a student to complete the program in 4 years taking 15 credits per semester. We are doing this by making the Arts and Sciences requirements the same for all degrees and reducing the number of electives outside the major a BA student is required to take from 14 to 12. These will allow students in the BA Art History program to focus more on their art studio and history courses.

Impact on long range planning, budget analysis, and faculty workload implications:

This may reduce the number of adjuncts and/or TAs teaching courses, reducing the overall number of faculty in the department, but we don't foresee any significant reductions due to the streamlining. It will have a slightly negative impact on our budget as currently calculated. It will not effect faculty workload.
