Reason(s) for Request * (enter text below or upload a doc/pdf file)

The dance major student at UNM pursuing a BA in Dance needs a music class designed for dancers in both of our concentrations in the dance major, whether they want to be teachers of dance, performers or choreographers. This change would also update the dance program in regards to current national trends in higher education in dance, as the previous requirement of Movement Analysis is becoming less common in dance studies nationally. Note: we decided to create a choice in the music class selection, so that, with advisement, students who had for example a thorough knowledge of flamenco music who are pursuing the flamenco concentration might take the Music Essentials for Contemporary Dance to enhance their knowledge of that area.

Statements to address budgetary and Faculty Load Implications and Long-range planning * (enter text below or upload a doc/pdf file)

There are no new budgetary or faculty load implications with this change in core curriculum. The previous requirement, DANC 250 Movement Analysis, was offered fall semester each year. We will rotate the music course required for each concentration, so that the music course for the flamenco concentration is offered in fall semester of even years, the music course for contemporary dance is offered fall semester of odd years. Long Range Planning: we have created and submitted the DANC 240 Music Essentials for Contemporary Dance new course Form B. We have yet to submit the DANC 242 Music Essentials for Flamenco Dance new course Form B, but plan to do so this spring 2012.
