☐ This Change affects other departmental program/branch campuses

Reason(s) for Request * (enter text below or upload a doc/pdf file)

The purpose of this Form C is to request changes related to the merger of two Graduate concentrations in Anthropology, Human Evolutionary Ecology (HEE) and Biological Anthropology (B) into a single concentration, Evolutionary Anthropology (EVA). The changes below are to delete the currently listed requirements for the Master's and Ph.D. degrees that are listed separately for HEE and B and replace them with a single description of the requirements for each degree for EVA. In the process of merging, two of the current "Emphases" within Biological Anthropology ("Forensic Anthropology," and "Bioarchaeology," described on p. 147 of the current Catalog) have been dropped. Two of the faculty who were the primary forces behind these emphases have left UNM. The new text for EVA is tailored to allow students to pursue a wider variety of specialized avenues of training, which each student will construct in consultation with her or his advisor. The total number of required, core classes that a student must complete prior to taking the Comprehensive Exam to obtain a Master's degree is similar in the new EVA guidelines as in the old HEE and B guidelines, but more options and flexibility are built into the requirements.

Statements to address budgetary and Faculty Load Implications and Long-range planning

There are no budgetary and faculty load implications. The current faculty will continue to teach the same courses they have been teaching with the same teaching loads, the only change is in formatting of the program.
