Program Description

Community Engaged Learning and Research in University College offers an 18 credit hour Civic and Community Engagement undergraduate minor. This program is designed to provide students with the skills and creativity to solve problems within their own communities and to develop students' own sense of self in collective efficacy and activism. The Civic and Community Engagement program integrates classroom learning with experiential and community-engaged learning opportunities, including service-learning, extended field study, and civic engagement at the local, national, and global levels.

The Civic and Community Engagement undergraduate minor is ideal for students seeking academic and hands-on opportunities to make a measurable difference in improving the quality of life for citizens throughout the local and global communities.
