☐ This Change affects other departmental program/branch campuses

Reason(s) for Request * (enter text below or upload a doc/pdf file)
Due to lack of demand from the students and consistently low enrollment in the Southwest Studies courses, this program will be deleted. However, in its place, a Concentration in Southwest Studies has been proposed under the AA in Liberal Arts. This will allow students with an interest in this area to continue with their focused study. The attached document describes the AA in Liberal Arts with the proposed Southwest Study concentration.

Re: Deletion off the AA in Southwest Studies Degree

The UNM-Los Alamos Curriculum has approved the deletion of the Associate of Arts in Southwest Studies Degree program at UNM-Los Alamos, as of September 18, 2008.

Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts

About the Program

The Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts is a degree program for students who desire a broad background and comprehensive grounding in the Arts and Humanities. As a terminal degree, it will provide students with a basic educational framework of value in a variety of fields including the arts, education, research, and business. As a transfer degree, its earned credits are the equivalent of the first two years of course work in the College of Arts and Sciences, preparing students to choose a major field

Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts Public Safety Professionals Concentration

This program is designed for students entering a Public Safety Professional field. This degree will transfer into a baccalaureate program such as Criminal Justice or Public Policy. As a terminal degree, it brings a strong foundation to the areas such as police work, fire safety work, security and emergency management.

Associate of Liberal Arts Southwest Studies Concentration

This program is designed as a baccalaureate transfer program for students who wish to gain a broad education in the Humanities within a context of cultural pluralism. Serving as a terminal degree, the program will provide students with valuable knowledge of local and regional history, language, art, ecology, anthropology, and literature of the three dominant cultures of the Southwest. Possible career options include employment in museums, art galleries, cultural tourism, etc.
